To Whom It May Concern,

Mr. Luka Fishter and I attended the Royal Military College of Canada together in the graduating classes of 2021 and 2022 respectively. The College organizes the Officer Cadets into military squadrons where Mr. Fishter was elected as my Section Commander.

Mr. Fishter served as our section commander, leading a team of five Officer Cadets with dedication and professionalism. He played a crucial role in our development by mentoring us in the four pillars of success at the college: Academics, Bilingualism, Military Leadership, and Physical Fitness. Through his guidance, we were encouraged to strive for excellence in our studies, improve our second language proficiency, develop strong leadership qualities, and maintain strong physical conditioning. His leadership style fostered discipline, teamwork, and personal growth, ensuring that we were well-prepared for the challenges of military training and future responsibilities as officers.

Mr. Fishter's leadership and mentorship greatly impacted our development as Officer Cadets. His guidance in the four pillars of success helped us build essential skills and discipline. His ability to teach, inspire, and support others makes him an excellent candidate for teachers college, where his dedication to education and mentorship will undoubtedly benefit future students.

All the best,

SEEGMULLER, MATTHEW 916
